

環境與生物分析國家重點實驗室
State Key Laboratory of Environmental and Biological Analysis

Date : August 12, 2014 (Tuesday)
Time : 10:00am
Venue : Room 909, Cha Chi-Ming Science Tower, Ho Sin Hang Campus,
Hong Kong Baptist University

Tips from High-Impact Researchers on Writing and Publishing Academic Journal Papers
Speakers: Dr. Steve Wallace
Time: 2 hours
This speech provides practical tips on journal submission. The information comes from years of researching researchers. The speech includes information from interviews with high-impact researchers to reveal their publishing secrets and how they have developed the habit of writing and have maintained their motivation for scholarly writing.
<ol style="list-style-type: none">1. How to review journal guidelines to determine the types of paper journals prefer2. How to cite references politely to earn better reviews3. How to submit to the three types of academic journal by understanding their biases4. How to hide clues of previous rejection when submitting your paper to new journals5. How to maintain writing motivation and productivity6. How to use an academic social network to increase your chance of acceptance7. How to identify journals with rising and falling impactfactors8. How to find weak points in your paper and improve them9. How to form positive publication competition and writinggroups10. How to view the paper writing process like a supply chain11. Conclusion

All interested are welcome.